conferenceseries.com

4th Annual Congress on STROKE AND NEUROLOGICAL DISORDERS

December 15, 2021 | Webinar

How does an empathy removes any mental illness in 2 hours

Keith Coney
Australia

By the time I turned 35 I had experienced 4 mental illnesses. But what caused them? The lack of clarity around the cause of mental illnesses is driving fear and stigma and it's had me reconsider my lived experience. I have been an engineer for 20 years but since I discovered that I am an empath and since developing that skill I have been able to "transfer" any emotion into my body over a period of 2 hours from another person. I have had great success with almost all psychiatric mental illnesses and numerous traumas and emotions but have not tried schizophrenia yet. I used this skill to dive into many people's illnesses – from life-long PTSD to multiple illnesses in a psychopath and even BPD. I can safely say that I know exactly what causes mental illnesses. And it's not "mental" and it's not an "illness". But an energy transfer is not practical for mass distribution to the public health systems as a solution to mental illnesses, as I am the only person I know of that is able to complete it. But right now it's the most reliable and safest solution for any condition in the psychiatric and trauma ranges. I have been completing around 3 transfers a week anywhere in the world using a video conference or phone call. I'm going to explain how energy transfer substantially or completely removes the cause of a "mental illness" – the emotion that started the condition. After all, emotions, mental illnesses and trauma are all just energy and energy can be transferred from a sick person to another, more resilient person. I will explain the considerations when preparing a person for transfer, how I discharge the energy after the transfer and what these conditions feel like inside me. How does a person respond when their condition is transferred out of their body? How do you prepare a person mentally for a healthy life when they have had a "mental illness" for many years or their entire life? These are all questions I have had to answer in hundreds of people and in more than 20 countries around the world since 2019. Mental illness is not the correct term for these issues. Since transferring conditions out of so many people I have realized this condition is more accurately described as Emotional Shock. "Thinking, research and statistics" has not brought us a solution in 2500 years of describing them as "mental illnesses". We must use our heart to solve – not treat – these conditions arising in our Emotional Health and Wellbeing.

Biography

Keith Coney is a full time Quality Manager in Australia on a major construction project. He is a Chartered Engineer and Project Manager, Lead Auditor and a Certified Life Coach (Engenesis' Being Profile). He is insured for counselling internationally based on his experience. He has delivered speeches to large businesses, charities and international conferences about mental illnesses and he supports any person that asks for support on Linkedin or Facebook. Since 2019, he has guided individuals with any psychiatric disorders, emotional traumas and supported people in suicide situations – in more than 20 countries to resolve their condition. Keith focusses on innovative ways to resolve mental illnesses in a matter of hours with the view to eradication worldwide.

keith@sutherlands.info