

Case Report on Bullous Lichen Planus

Rasha Maharooof

Komfo Anokye Teaching Hospital, Ghana

Abstract

Background Bullous lichen Planus (BLP) is a rare form of inflammatory and immune mediated mucocutaneous lesion characterized by vesicles or bullae that occur on pre-existing lesions of lichen planus (LP). Biopsy is the essential diagnostic criterion to conclude the clinical features of BLP.

Received: September 13, 2022; Accepted: September 17, 2022; Published: September 30, 2022

Biography

Rasha Maharooof is working at Komfo Anokye Teaching Hospital, Kumasi, Ghana.