

Concept, need, significance and evolution of ECCE

Shabana Sultana

Delhi Public School Amaravati, India

Abstract

The concept of early childhood care and education has undergone several changes during the last century; it has evolved from pre-primary and preschool education to early childhood care and education. The 'care' component has now been recognised as an integral part of ECCE programmes. The objective of ECCE is all round development of children addressing all needs of Survival growth and development.

Received: March 01, 2022; Accepted: March 09, 2022; Published: March 23, 2022

Biography

Shabana Sultana has completed her Masters in Biochemistry at the age of 21 years from Acharya Nagarjuna University and Bachelors in Education from Acharya Nagarjuna University She is the head of science

Department in Delhi Public School Amaravati premier organization in the newly formed State Capital of Andhra Pradesh.