Editorial

Dear authors, reviewers and readers of journal of nursing and health studies. It gives me a great pleasure to welcome you to the first edition of journal of nursing and health studies for which I will be acting as an editor. The journal is devoted to the field of medical sciences. Journal of nursing and health studies is the first dedicated international, peer reviewed open access journal that provides rapid publication of articles in all areas of medical sciences. The journal receives high-quality submissions and welcomes contributions in nursing practice, nursing education, nursing management, therapeutic systems and technologies, cognitive informatics, clinical problems and applications, critical care nursing including surgery, neurosciences, psychiatric and mental health nursing, pediatric nursing, geriatric nursing, adult-gerontology, home health nursing, maternal nursing, cancer nursing, and rehabilitation nursing.

Journal of nursing and health studies with its editorial team, editorial board and advisory board will have the mission of promoting excellence in nursing practice and all its related and closely related fields and specialties, through publishing refereed researches. The journal of nursing and health studies will serve as a major source for research in nursing and help many researchers to communicate their work with the scientific communities. The journal will be committed to relevance and excellence and will have a clear vision of becoming a leader in nursing journalism in the field of nursing and health studies. Once the journal is issued, readers will be able to access all topics/published researches on line. We are looking forward to a bright future of journal of nursing and health studies.
