

Pregnancy, Maternal Unbound. Source of Filicide and Child Abuse

María Teresa Sotelo Morales

President of the Foundation on Screen, Against Child Violence, Mexico

Abstract

This work supports the hypothesis that the source of child abuse and homicide, perpetrated by the mother, occurs during the gestational stage, birth, and postnatal period, in women who do not build during these stages, an affective bond with the baby/nasciturus, likewise, the woman, is afflicted with a mental disorder most frequency depression, psychosis, anxiety, low tolerance of frustrating, and poor impulse control, to deal with stressful living conditions.

From 2009 to 2014, the FUPAVI's foundation, applied a test of 221 women with a background of child abuse, 189 reported rejection of pregnancy, and affective disconnection to the baby, 171 were under stress, and untreated depression, or other mental disorder.

32 accepted the pregnancy, but not on a state of contentment. The revealing part of the procedure laid on the fact that the results, were susceptible of predicting child abuse, or potential murderer timely scientific findings of hearth interconnectivity techniques between the mother and her baby are revealed to prevent child abuse.

Biography

María Teresa Sotelo Morales, Researcher, President of Fundación en Pantalla, Contra la Violencia Infantil, Mexico. She had Twenty years of experience in research in various criminal and medical disciplines, that delves into the origin of the child abuse and risk factors associated. Former President of Fundación En Pantalla Contra la Violencia Infantil "FUPAVI" 2008-2016. Author of two books, five documentaries, and nine scientific publications. Her researches highlight the pre and post a maternal bond as determinant stages to prevent child abandonment and filicide, revealing the power of the maternal biomolecular bond composition. Pedagogue by profession, other studies in criminal psychology, and investigative journalism. Member of the National of Health Secretariat Commission. Invited Member and founder of children research at Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas UNAM.

Publications

- 1.The Public Function in The Regulation of Food: Ethics and Prevention
- 2.Pre and Post Natal Bonding to prevent Child Abuse
- 3.Why invest to prevent child abuse? The budgetary impact of Direct, Indirect and Collateral Derived costs
- 4.Accident or Homicide? Sub-register of infant death cases. Undetected, Neglect and Abuse.
5. Pregnancy Maternal unbound: Source of Filicide and Child Abuse

31st International Conference on Nursing Practice | Paris, France | July 08-09, 2020

Citation: María Teresa Sotelo Morales, Pregnancy, Maternal Unbound. Source of Filicide and Child Abuse, Nursing Practice 2020, 31st Interna-tional Conference on Nursing Practice, Paris, France, July 08-09, 2020