

Spurring enthusiasm and challenging current wisdom

Anna Szymczak

Venture Building, Digital Transformation, e-Health, Poland

Abstract

I'm a data driven decision maker with cross-functional experience and business acumen. Translating vision into reality, I've gained a practical knowledge in building business processes and manage P&L. I'm creative and forward-thinking with the ability to strike the right balance between short-term improvement and long term value. Spurring enthusiasm and challenging current wisdom help me to achieve company goals in a fast paced environment.

Business is a game of growth you can't play alone. Combination of entrepreneurial activity with corporate resources is a way to balance speed and agility against control and strategic direction.
